TEN YEARS OF DEVOTED SERVICE FROM THE WOMEN OF ANDERSON

Civic Association has Accomplished Much Good, Including the Creating of the Plaza and the Starting of the "White Way" Movement

The Ladies' Civic Association held its annual social meeting Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. J. M. Payne, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. McCown and Miss Dot Payne were the hostesses. Mrs. Payne's home was exquisitely decorated with quantities of yellow daffodils and the yellow color scheme was carried out in every detail in the delicious ice course which they served after the program had been completed.

The first number on the program was an instrumental solo by Mrs. O. L. Martin. After this Mrs. Rufus Fant made the following interesting report of the work done by the association in the past ten years.

Ten years ago today, a few ladies met at the city hall and organized the Civic Association of Anderson. We were one of the pioneer civic clubs of South Carolina. The work has been hard; sometimes we have been discouraged and many times we have been discouraged.

"As we glance backward and remember that even trash cans were not used in our city by our merchants until we asked city council to pass an ordinance compelling the merchants to use these cans and then a committee was appointed to purchase cans and the civic association agreed to pay for them.

"We are glad that we started on the work. In this connection, I might say that the city soon saw how beneficial it was to have trash cans and would not allow the civic league to pay for them.

The Plaza. The plaza was a mud hole with brick bats and other debris piled up in the corners when we asked city council to let us take charge of it. Council granted our request, but the mayor said it was a foolish undertaking and waste of money for us to try and improve it. It may be of interest to know that Rufus Fant named the "Plaza" and "Court Square."

"The mayor said that there was no use trying to do anything with a place that had been a public road for over 80 years. I told him that if he would give it to us we would show him what could be done and after we finished, he told me that he was convinced of his error and that he was delighted.

"The court square was another unsightly place when we decided that we would beautify that spot. We erected the Anderson fountain; we built the brick fence at the hospital, we put the cement walks and drains there, we put in benches on the square, we contribute to the Salvation army each year.

"We were the first organization in Anderson to study and agitate the danger of the house and stable fly, we have worked for compulsory education, we have worked for city and state-wide medical inspection in our public schools, we have touched on social hygiene, we believe in prison reform.

"We were the first organization in town to discuss the importance of a juvenile court.

"We prevented the traction company

PLEASED FOR PEACE

Former Minister Did Not Want Letters Published.

Yves, March 23.—Louis Harrison, former minister, in testifying today before the committee of the chamber of deputies investigating the allegation that anti-slavery influenced postponement of the trial of the swindler Henry Hoehne, declared that he had not supplied any documents to the Senate.

M. Harrison said he had not directly or indirectly taken part in the campaign against Joe Callahan. On the contrary, when he heard that S. Carrette, editor of the Pharo intended to publish papers injurious to the public welfare, he pleaded with Callahan not to publish them and received a promise that it would not be done.
